Background

HPK started price monitoring of fresh fruits and vegetables in March 2001 in order to fill this important gap in market information. The main beneficiaries are expected to be farmers, traders, governmental institutions, donor agencies and HPK itself.

The price monitoring takes place every Tuesday (market day in Pristina) when the supply and demand of fresh fruits and vegetables products is highly concentrated.

Introduction

Both wholesale and retail prices are collected on a weekly basis and are averages for individual products as ascertained through direct questioning of a range of traders. Data are presented as averages on a monthly and a weekly basis.

The price data of following crops are presented in this report:

Vegetables: Peppers sweet, Peppers chilli, Carrots, Tomatoes, Cucumber, Onions, Potatoes, Garlic, Cabbage, Lettuce, Spinach, Beetroot, Cauliflower, Parsley, Leeks, Broccoli, Aubergines, Radish, White beans and String Beans.

Fruits: Apple, Lemon, Grape, Pears, Plums, Watermelon, Malone, Peach, Nectarines, Apricot, Strawberries and Cherries.

This report could be downloaded from the official of HPK web page: www.intercoopkos.org. Further information related to the price monitoring please mail to: info@intercoopkos.org.
